Preparations

It is now time to start printing, laminating and preparing certain documents.

Step 1

Start by printing the materials needed for the room, which can be found in the following link:

 https://drive.google.com/drive/folders/1aj_yz1EwuUf4ryVF5eMSXAvjOlv9jxo?usp=sharing

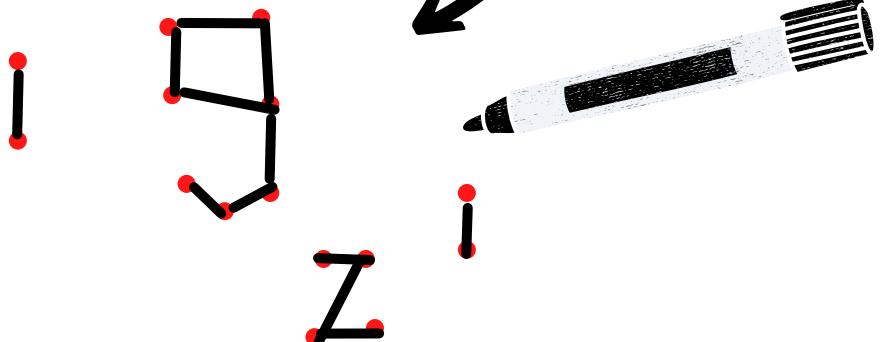

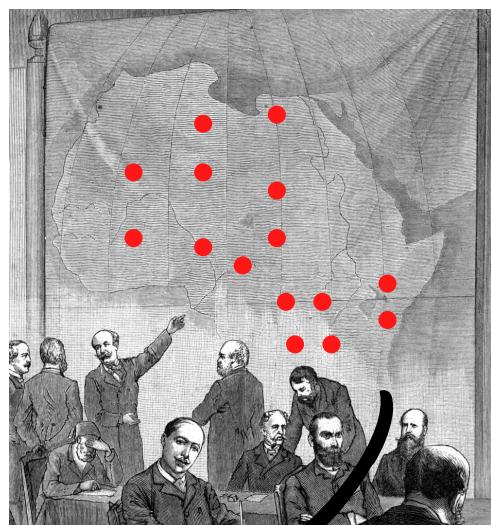

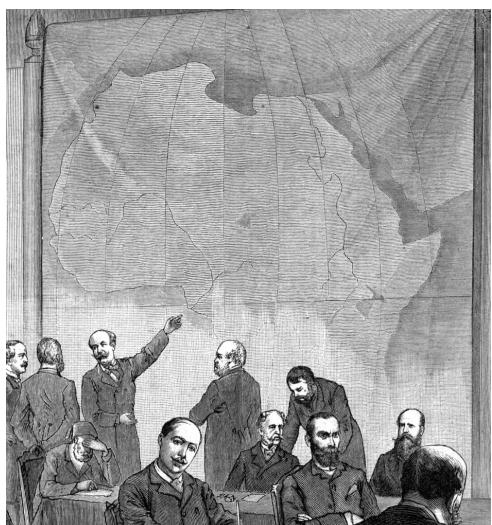

Step 2

After you have printed all the material, you also need to laminate the documents which are named "racism line" and "the berlin conference / puzzle 1en se se". NOTE! You just print and laminate the English text, and ignore the translation in Swedish.

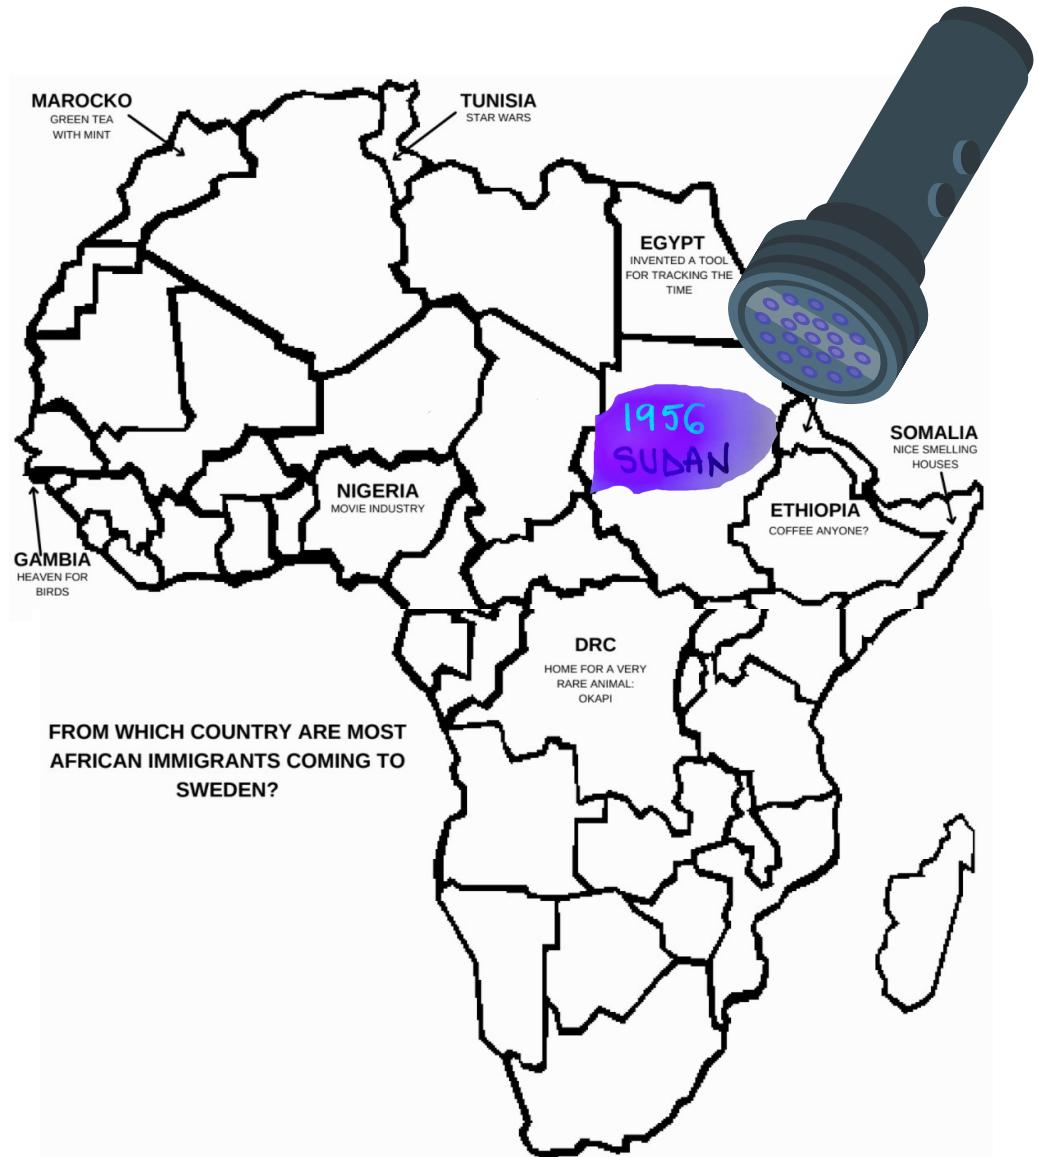

Step 3

In the documents "Puzzle2-map" and "Africa map" the following need to be added manually:

- On the following map, named "puzzle2-map", you need to draw some dots, and then laminate the paper so that the students during the game can draw lines between the dots using a whiteboard pen that forms the number 1921. See below picture for example.

- In the document named "Africa map", you only need to print the last two pages that are in English. Then write the year of independence in each country with a UV pen, so that the students during the game can shine at the country with a UV lamp to see the years. See image below for example.

Write with a UV pen the following year of independence in each country:

- Marocco = 1955
- Gambia = 1965
- Nigeria = 1960
- Tunisien = 1956
- Egypten = 1922
- Sudan = 1956
- Eritrea = 1993

Step 4

1

Laminate a white paper (A5)

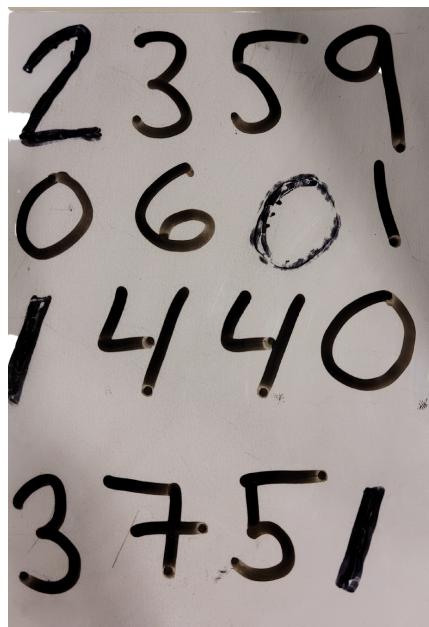

2

Write the following numbers on the laminated paper in the same position as the picture below with a permanent highlighter.

3

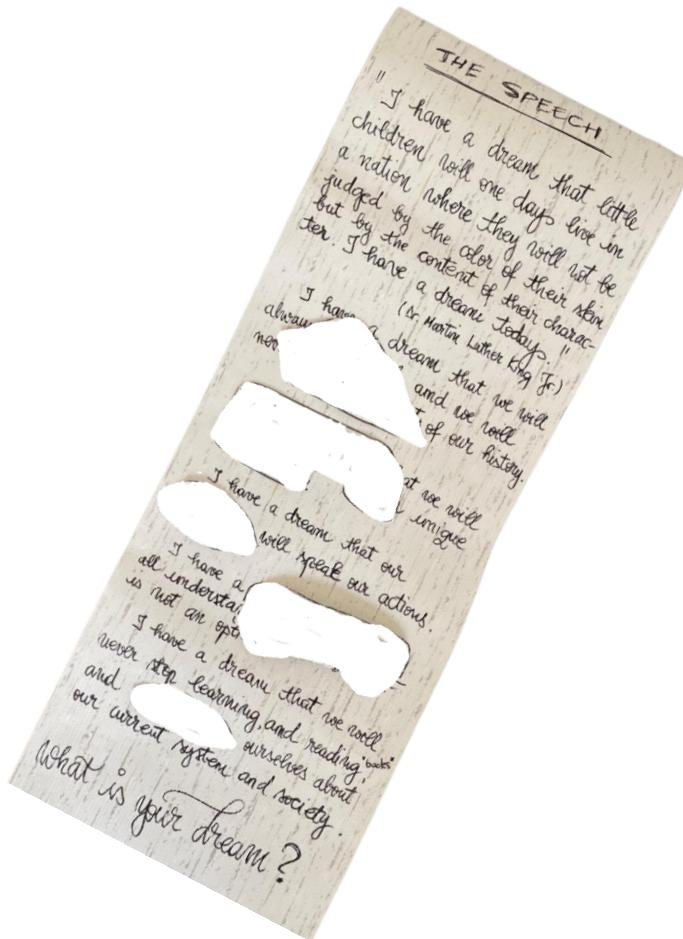

Use a whiteboard pen to write different numbers in a certain order on the remaining part of the paper so that it resembles the picture below. It is important that the permanent highlighter and whiteboard pen have the same black color, so that the players does not figure out the number immediately.

Step 5

After you have printed the document called "speech final edition", glue all the papers together except the last page so that a speech is formed. See image below for example.

2

As for the last page, all the pieces should be cut out separately. So there should be five loose pieces from the speech.

Step 6

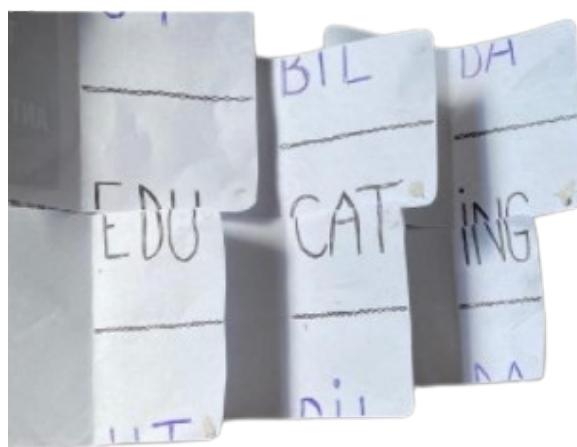

1

After you have printed the document named "book print", cut out each book cover individually.

2

For the book covers that can be matched, turn the pages on these and write parts of words that together form the word "EDUCATING". See example in the picture below where the backside of six book covers is shown.

Step 7

After you have printed the document named "country cards", cut out the different information cards one by one. NOTE! You only need to cut out the country cards that are in English.

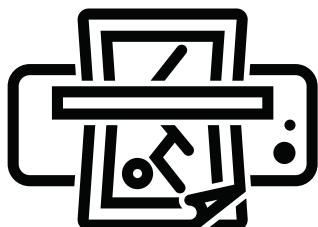

The template consists of two vertical columns separated by a dashed orange line. Each column contains three items: a bullet-pointed list of facts and three small images related to those facts. The first column is labeled with a yellow 'F' and the second with a yellow 'G'. The facts are as follows:

So there are now only three batteries left inside the UV lamp. In the other compartment, place the smaller piece of dishcloth that you previously cut off.

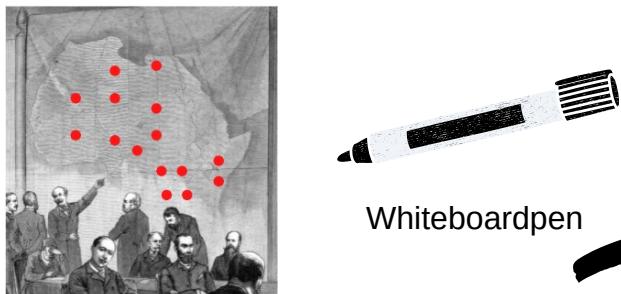

Step 3

Now you place the document named "speech" that you previously printed and glued together, as well as the document about the Berlin conference that you previously printed and laminated - and place these in the side compartment of the bag, which is unlocked. One tip is to roll the documents.
